

Little Bustard

Tetrax tetrax

SEASONAL BEHAVIOUR

Usually takes up its breeding territory between March and September.

DISTRIBUTION

Absent from Sierra de Aracena y Picos de Aroche. Rare in Sevilla, with two tiny wintering groups (La Senda and Llanos de Guaditoca). Very scarce in Córdoba where it occasionally turns up in the cropland of southern Montoro. The bulk of the local population is therefore found in Jaén (campiña of Villanueva de la Reina and Bailén).
